Edmonton Ready Welcome Governor-General of Canada

City to Honor New Governor

Field Marshal Viscount Alexander of Tunis, governor-general of Canada, and Lady Alexander will visit Edmonton for the first time on Sunday, arriving here at 10:00 p.m. They will leave for the east 24 hours later.

A varied program awaits the vice-regal party Monday, and veterans who served under His Excellency in Sicily and Italy, will be given an opportunity of seeing him again, while residents as a whole will make their first acquaintance with him.

One of the outstanding soldiers of the recent war, Viscount Alexander won widespread respect of friend and foe alike. He was the last soldier to leave the beach at Dunkerque.

Satisfied that all soldiers had been evacuated he stepped into a small boat and himself left the shell-swept sands. That incident won him instant popularity with soldiers of all ranks and all nationalities.

An official welcome will be extended Their Excellencies at 10:00 a.m. Monday when Hon. J. C. Bowen, lieutenant-governor; Premier Manning, Mayor Ainlay and other dignitaries will be present at the C.N.R. station.

At 10:15 a.m. he will inspect a guard of honor, leaving immediately after for the Charles Cammell hospital, at the former Jesuit College site.

The main ceremony of the day will take place at 11:20 a.m. when His Excellency will rededicate the cenotaph in memory of the dead of the first world war.

At 12:30 Their Excellencies will be guests at a luncheon at the Macdonald hotel, presided over by the Men's and Women's Canadian clubs and the Kiwanis club.

At 2:30 p.m. they will commence an inspection of the Col. McEwen Pavilion and later the military convalescent home at the former government house.

The lieutenant-governor is entertaining at tea at 4:30 p.m. and at 7:00 p.m. there will be a joint provincial-civic dinner at the Macdonald. Their Excellencies will leave for the east at 10:00 p.m.

All veterans organizations have been invited to take part in the dedication of the cenotaph. These organizations will parade on 10th ave. immediately south of the Memorial hall at 10:45 a.m. under direction of Jack Jones, parade sergeant-major.

A special inspection has been extended to next-of-kin of Edmontonians who served in the war. They will be escorted to the place of honor has been reserved on the south east side of the cenotaph.

The rededication ceremony will feature the unveiling of the new figures 1929-1945, which have been added to the original dates, 1914-1918.

Employers have been requested to permit as many as possible of their employees to attend the ceremony.

Official placing of wreaths by the governor-general, the lieutenant-governor, the premier, the city, armed forces, R.C.M.P., veterans' groups and other dignitaries is an important part of the ceremony.

The public will be given the opportunity of placing flowers on the cenotaph when the vice-regal party has departed.

There is to be no violence if a farmers' non-violence strike is called, Carl J. Stimpfle, president of the Alberta Farmers' Union, said Saturday.

Mr. Stimpfle recalled that in the first farmers' strike in Alberta in 1934, grain wagons on highways were overturned. "We don't want anything like that," he said, "if it is to be a peaceful strike, if it is called."

delegation from the A.F.U. headed by Mr. Stimpfle will leave Saturday night for the east to bring a brief to the dominion government containing their demands.

These demands include that a fact-finding board be appointed to determine parity prices for farm products, that the price level for wheat shall be based on $1.55 per bushel and in the farmers' basis No. 1 Northern Fort William for the next five years.

Officials of the A.F.U. have stated that if demands are not met by the dominion government, a strike call will be issued immediately.

Some grain dealers in Edmonton said Friday farmers in some districts appear to be hoarding available wheat to market to beat a possible non-violent strike, affecting all farm produce.

New Pay Raises Please Dominion

By Torchy Anderson

OTTAWA—Satisfaction, almost elation, prevails in official circles following the acceptance of wage increases in keeping with the "10-cent line" by a large number of railway employees.

There is general belief that following the settlement between Canadian National and a number of its employees, a similar agreement is attainable in the Canadian Pacific system.

At the government gets the tacit backing of this large and influential labor group in Canada for its fight against inflation, it is felt that it cannot help but have a very deep psychological effect in other labor disputes.

Litvinoff Loses Post As Deputy

MOSCOW, (AP)—Maxim M. Litvinoff, former Soviet foreign minister, has been released from his duties as a deputy foreign minister. It was announced officially Saturday.

The council of ministers simultaneously announced two new deputy foreign ministers—Fyodor Gusev and Alexander Alexandrovich Malik.

The second vacancy had resulted from the resignation of Solomon Abramovich Litvinoff as deputy foreign minister last month. Litvinoff was appointed chief of the Soviet information bureau.

Litvinoff, 70, was one of the oldest Russian revolutionaries. In the past, his resignations and appointments often have been regarded as a change in Soviet foreign policy.

After serving for a decade as foreign minister, he was replaced unexpectedly by V. M. Molotov on May 19, 1935, in the midst of negotiations with Britain and France for a mutual assistance pact.

Fights Over Frontier Declared Deliberate

By Associated Press

BEIGRADE, (AP)—Marshal Tito, in a written reply to correspondents' questions, Saturday accused United States military authorities of deliberate aerial reconnaissance of Yugoslav military installations along the Italian-Yugoslav frontier.

In the text of his reply to questions by newsmen, Tito claimed unauthorized flights over Yugoslav soil were carried out for the purpose of "reconnoitering those regions which our military units are occupying in zone 'B' and the rest of the frontier zone."

The question which the Yugoslav premier was answering was: "Do you believe the infringement of Yugoslav frontiers to be deliberate, and if so, for what purpose?"

Continuing his answer to that question, Tito said: "Furthermore, the systematic flying over our territory by Upper Slovenia by Allied transport and passenger planes has not been accidental erring from routes, or on account of weather, but intentional and arbitrary action by Allied pilots who do not respect our sovereignty and who fly over our territory without our permission in order to shorten the way, as they themselves state."

Tito accused American military authorities of attempting to intimidate his followers and encourage his erstwhile opponents. Heavily armed craft were flying over the area, he said, being employed to these ends, he said.

Tito's accusations came while American officials prepared to send a mission to Belgrade to obtain the bodies of all five occupants of an American transport plane shot down by Yugoslav fighters last Monday. The officials planned to verify a report that Tito had not permitted search of the wreckage of the aircraft.

Tito handed a note to U.S. ambassador Patterson at the summer resort of Bled Friday saying there apparently were no survivors of the crash. He described the incident as "a regrettable accident," but offered no apology.

Mr. Patterson and other American diplomats visited the scene of the crash, but found no indication of a "regrettable accident," but offered no apology.

Wheat Shipments Doubled in War

LONDON, (CP)—Canada's proportion of wheat and flour shipments to the United Kingdom was doubled during the war, food ministry statistics reveal, and by 1945 she was supplying more than four-fifths of total imports.

The war Canada adjusted her export program to meet British needs while shipments were sinking up to nine percent of imported food and enemy advances cut off normal sources of supply is told in "How Britain was Fed in Wartime."

These are some other facts culled from the 66-page story of food ministry operations since 1939:

1. Civilians in 1944 (and the situation is little changed today) were eating one-fifth more bread, one-fifth more milk and three-fifths more potatoes than before the war; but butter consumption was down one-fifth, sugar one-third, meat one-seventh and fruit one-quarter.

Peak of Nine Percent

2. Losses of food by enemy action reached a peak of 9.3 percent of imports during January, February and March, 1942. The worst full year for losses was 1941 with 5.1 percent from January through December.

3. The food ministry became the sole importer of all the chief food-stuffs.

4. Food prices increased slightly more than 20 percent during the Second Great War, compared with 130 percent from 1914 to 1919.

5. Some food found its way into black market transactions, but never enough to affect the national supplies materially.

6. "It is still too early to assess finally the effects of the wartime diet."

Contribution Doubled

Before the war, Canada shipped 39 percent of Britain's wheat and flour, the booklet reported. By 1944 total imports had dropped to two-thirds—but Canada's contribution had doubled to 83 percent.

The same thing happened to meat shipments. Canada, sending limited quantities before 1939, was supplying 21 percent of all British meat requirements by 1944.

Despite all possible purchases abroad, however, British food imports were cut in half during the war.

Incubator Child Has 50-50 Chance

GANGES, B.C. (CP)—Possibility that Margaret Joyce Smathers, one-pound-nine-ounce baby, may spend the next three months of her young life in the latest thing in incubators, was seen by Dr. George Meyer, resident doctor at Lady Minto hospital.

Margaret Joyce was "doing very well" Friday.

"With the new incubator she has a 50-50 chance for survival," said Dr. Meyer. "She is an unusually small baby to have lived this long. We have her on a formula of glucose and condensed milk now and she is still fed every 1½ hours by means of an eye-dropper. She cries lustily."

Margaret Joyce, who measured just 12 inches long, was born by her side almost naturally on her maternal side, since Mrs. Smathers stands four feet 11 inches. Mr. Smathers, who works on a farm on North Pender Island, is six feet 1½ inches.

"Interest is still growing in baby Margaret's welfare," said Dorothy McDermott, undergraduate nurse. "People telephoned to find out if the new incubator had arrived."

She will have to weigh above five pounds before she is taken out of the incubator.

Mrs. Smathers is expected to leave hospital today. Baby Margaret demands lots of attention, but she is "sweet" no one minds, said Miss McDermott.

Objects Canada Following Others

OTTAWA, (CP)—E. B. McKay (C.C.F., Westburn), speaking during defence estimates debate said Canada should be a leader in the councils of world peace and not a follower. He was opposed to any bilateral agreements or allowances which would lead only to suspicion in international circles.

Military manoeuvres also were cause of suspicion and he wondered if Canadian relations with some countries were not already adversely affected by the Mustang expedition, which made a 3,000-mile sweep last spring through Canada's northland.

Because of the writing-off of home absentees and deserters, E. D. Fulton (Prog. Cons., Kamloops) said it would only be fair to grant overseas veterans serving detention for military offences either their freedom or a guarantee that on release they would get discharge benefits for periods of service outside detention.

At present they were only promised consideration of their records on release. They could be denied benefits.

Report Spy Chief Attempts Suicide

MADRID, (AP)—Karl Arnold, leading wartime German espionage agent in Spain, was brought to the airport Friday in a cot from an overdose of sleeping tablets and he and 14 other Germans left for Germany in a United States army plane.

The plane was the first shipment in a renewed repatriation of objectionable Germans from Spain. Although the government has listed 110 Germans for return to Germany under the present program.

Arnold took pills during the night in what Allied officials said apparently was a suicide attempt. Following application of a stomach pump he was brought to the airport in a police wagon by the Spaniards.

Toronto Women Employ Ice Tongs Beat Huge Fish Into Submission

TORONTO, (CP)—History records the fact that the first fish was caught with bare hands—not with line and hook as modern regulations require. Since that early day when men discovered fish were palatable, the means of trapping these elusive creatures have been many and varied.

But in this day and age of equipment unequalled in perfection, anglers still resort to primitive methods to make their catch despite the fact these are frowned upon—not to the point of incarceration—by officials of the games and fisheries department.

The fruitful fisherman—and his "no-luck" partner—always have had an abundant stock of tall stories and this year has proved no exception. At Gannanoke, Ont., some days ago, a muskungee was caught in a slipnet loop by a couple of men who were preparing to go for a sail in their dinghy.

A few days previously, two Toronto women—probably the type who are afraid of live bait and can't cast a fly—developed an even more unusual approach.

An immense 25-pound muskie was peacefully sleeping in some comfortable weeds near Midland, Ont., when these two women chanced to say him. Next thing the fish knew he was being attacked with all things—ice tongs. Then the women best him into submission with a small anchor—Who wouldn't submit?

That went one better than the fisherman who last year clouted a muskie over the head with a shovel. After the spade-work was done, the catch was a cinch. The pseudo-fisherman shoveled his quarry out of the water.

Then again you may try some of the more "disapproved" methods

Reports Finding Blood on Knife

CALGARY, (CP)—Microchemical and microscopic examination showed there was human blood on a four-inch paring knife submitted to her Aug. 15 by Calgary detectives for examination. Dr. Lola McLatchie, pathologist, testified in police court here Friday at the preliminary inquiry into a charge of murder against Donald Sherman Stanley, 29-year-old army veteran.

Stanley is accused of murdering six-year-old Donnie Goss at St. George's Island, July 24. Police announced last Sunday Stanley had confessed in Lethbridge jail to the slaying of the Goss boy and also to that of 10-year-old Gary Billings in Vancouver July 5.

Dr. McLatchie, who conducted the autopsy into Donnie Goss' death and also analyzed the knife, articles of clothing and pieces of grass and earth, submitted to her by the police, completed her testimony in an hour. The case was adjourned by Magistrate Jensen, and, at the request of Crown Prosecutor M. H. Staples, will be resumed Aug. 29.

Stanley, asked after Dr. McLatchie had completed her testimony whether he wished to ask the witness any questions, replied: "No, sir."

The knife, entered as an exhibit, was not identified but a knife answering a similar description was found by police officers by a house after he was arrested here Aug. 8, on a charge of shopbreaking.

Post-War Record For Cars Is Set

DETROIT, (AP)—The car and truck plants of the United States and Canada last week turned out 91,930 vehicles to establish a post-war high mark, Ward's Automotive Reports said Friday. The previous post-war high point was the previous week's total, revised at 88,990.

Seek Titled Heir Living in Canada

LONDON, (CP)—Wanted: the heir to a baronetcy, believed to be living somewhere in Canada.

If he still is alive the heir's name probably is Hardinge and he would be a descendant of Edmund Cecil Hardinge, who went to Canada before the turn of the century, is believed to have worked for the C.P.R. and to have been killed in a railway accident about 1895.

Sir Charles Hardinge, the fifth baronet, has been seeking for years to locate descendants of Edmund and has enlisted the aid of Debrett's Peerage.

Debrett's said that until existence of the Canadian heir was confirmed or disproved, doubts would be cast on the succession to the title of the nearest English relation of Sir Charles, a 15-year-old Nicholas William Hardinge.

Squatters Occupy Camps in Ulster

BELFAST, (CP)—Several army camps near Londonderry which formerly were occupied by United States and British troops were taken over by "squatters" Friday. It was the first invasion of public property by homeless families to be reported in Ulster.

"Squatting" continued to spread in a number of English counties.

Asks Civilian Heads Of Courts Martial

OTTAWA, (CP)—A. L. Smith (Prog. Cons., Calgary West) suggested in the commonsense Friday that a civilian, equivalent to a judge, be placed in charge of courts martial in each of Canada's military districts.

He could not believe that the influence of future opportunities did not have some effect on the outlook of army officers in the military courts, he said.

Lt. Col. Allan Cockeran (Prog. Cons., York South) suggested the whole method of courts martial in the army should be reviewed. In army prosecutions in Holland junior officers had been found guilty and punished while a senior officer

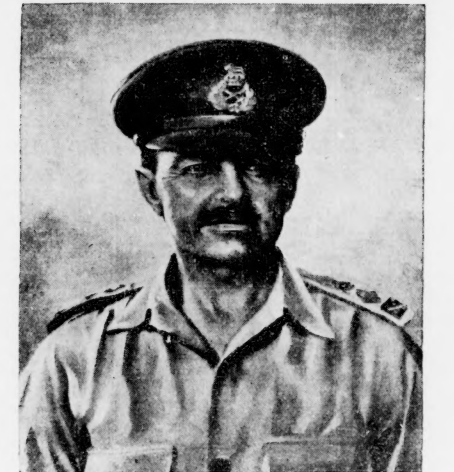

—Brig. J.F.A. Lister—had been acquitted and subsequently had been given a senior position (deputy adjutant general) in the Canadian army, he said. His acquittal ultimately followed a recommendation of the prosecuting officer.

LOCKHEED AND BOEING COMPLETE TWO NEW GIANT AIRLINERS

GENERAL 'IKE' GETS ANOTHER MEDAL; THIS TIME FROM MEXICO

DOUBLE-HEADER—Put in to service at the same time, but by different aircraft companies, these two huge planes will serve different purposes. Lockheed's Constellation, above, built for the Navy, is the largest in the fleet and carries 180 people. Boeing's Stratofreighter, below, is a double-deck four-engine all-cargo plane. It will operate at a cost of 3.9 cents per ton-mile.

CHARM—Daughter of a Minneapolis news editor, lovely Noel Neill models in this rumba dance costume in Hollywood. Miss Neill displays her talent in Paramount's "Blue Skies."

WELCOME TO U.S.—Bob Eckhouse, once an Army major, greets his fiancée, Franca Simonetti, when she arrived in New York aboard the S.S. Vulcania from Italy. Franca is the first post-war Italian bride-to-be to enter United States.

THEY LOOK DOWN—Under the impressive statues of former French political leaders, delegates to the Peace Conference in Paris hammer out peace treaty terms. Historic palace is more than 300 years old.

MURDER IN NEW YORK—It really happened in Brooklyn. Turi Montalbano, 26, who had a police record, went for an early morning ride from which there was no return. Authorities found him slumped over in a parked car, his back and neck riddled with bullets. The killers escaped.

WHO SAID "PIGS CAN'T SWIM"?—Disproving an age old belief, these pigs are swimming a 75-yard race at Kirkland, Wash. "Rose of Normandie," 212-pound winner, made the sprint in three minutes, 37.1 seconds. Ten thousand spectators witnessed the event.

QUIET, PLEASE!—While others admire the exhibits at the Annual Fiesta De Las Flores at La Mesa, near San Diego, "Tabby" dozes in the facsimile of a giant avocado.

HASTE MADE WASTE—When fire broke out in Tia Juana, Mexico, threatening the business district, this fire truck overturned rushing to the scene. Four firemen were injured. Tia Juana, the Mexican town just across the bay from San Diego, California, attracts many sportsmen from the Golden State.

Road Construction Progress Reported

The present program of construction and maintenance of Alberta roads is employing every piece of machinery and equipment of the Department of public works, Hon. W. A. Fallow, public works minister, said Friday.

IN MANY instances completion before freeze-up is expected in the heavy program, and work is being advanced in some areas by independent contractors, the minister said.

Two large outfits and crews are working on the Crowfoot-Peak road, highway and graveling and surfacing is now well under way, it was reported.

Outlets and crews of the works department are working out of Red Deer and it is expected the strip upon which they are now engaged will be extended and completed before winter sets in.

Cement Lack Cuts Paving Program

Due to shortages of cement and labor the city's paving program for 1946 seems likely to be cut from $200,000 to about $60,000, Mayor Harry Ainlay said Saturday.

"WE WILL MAKE every effort to complete the sidewalk construction portion of the program and cut down our street paving in proportion," he said.

It will be a policy of completing walks and street paving where the need of residents seems the most urgent, the mayor pointed out.

Although it is as yet not possible to state exactly what work will have to be postponed until next year, there seems little hope of seeing the west end projects being completed this year.

PAVING ON ST. George's Crescent is included in the portion of the program most likely to be postponed until next year.

Every effort is being made to divert as much cement as possible for home-building, particularly for homes of veterans.

There was a surplus on operation of $35,280 in July, compared to $43,712 in June.

EDMONTON, ALBERTA, SATURDAY, AUGUST 24, 1946

Airman in Crash Tells of Hazards

Existing on a diet of water for nearly a month, in addition to all the hazards involved, is none too easy on a man's pocketbook. In the experience of Filt. Lt. William McKenzie, RCAF, of Winnipeg, who reached Edmonton Friday to resume duties at the air force establishment here.

AS PILOT of a Gloster Meteor jet-propelled aircraft which crashed during a flight between Kapuskasing, Ont., and Toronto, McKenzie spent the subsequent 26 days in the bush, the first 23 of them with a diet of straight water. On the 24th day he found a few berries and ate them until eventually walked to safety and solid food.

1 lost 47 pounds during that time, the officer recalled Friday. That called for a completely new uniform. So far he's added 17 pounds to his frame and is attempting to hold his weight there—which means that his new uniform will have to be let out, or his old one taken in.

FLT. LT. MCKENZIE will be based at the RCAF's winter experimental establishment at Naino airport in a flying post he held for about five months previous to his journey east.

In spite of his experience in a jet-propelled plane which didn't stay propelled, McKenzie likes the fast ships. He's travelled about 500 miles per hour in them and hopes to do better than that in the future, although he emphasized that the RCAF unit here is experimenting in winter flying conditions, rather than attempting to set speed records of the sort being made in England at present.

Combining his experience with the Belasco Players, the Edmonton Community Theatre, William Wallace of Edmonton is the leading hand in the coming Folk Festival pageant.

THE PAGEANT, which is being staged on a mammoth open-air setting at Clark Stadium on Sunday, Sept. 1, is now being built into final shape by the director and his corps of assistants. Combining the folk lore of the Edmonton district and the riot of color from native costumes, the festival will prove to be a natural emergence into making this production a standard for future festivals that will be hard to beat.

IN IT WILL be skillfully combined the native culture and traditions of a truly cosmopolitan community, along with the thrilling saga which is always associated with Edmonton's development in the last century and a half.

2 Edmonton Homes Hit by Lightning

Two Edmonton families narrowly escaped death or serious injury during an electrical storm early Saturday morning when their homes were struck by lightning. Accompanied by pelting rain and hail, which for a time threatened to batter out windows, the storm fought its way over the city as the culmination of almost a week of particularly hot weather.

THE HOME of Dr. John Scott, 1124 112 St., was under repair Saturday after lightning ripped a hole through the roof at about 10 minutes before 1 a. m. On the north side of the Saskatchewan river, the home of Mrs. D. Riddell, 11906 85 St., suffered damage to shingles on the roof at about 1:30 a. m. In both cases no one was injured.

As reports of minor damage caused the late officers, residents of the city expressed surprise at the storm's ferocity.

AROUSAL FROM their sleep by the loud rumbling and roaring of the thunder, many Edmontonians stayed up to get a look at one of nature's more violent moods. In spite of expectations, gardens were not severely hit by spasmoid hail.

The city fire department reported no conflagrations attributed to lightning. A telephone pole on the high level bridge was reported struck and knocked over by the storm. It burst into flame and ignited the planks across which it was lying.

Lights were interfered with in many sections of the city. Trolley wires went down on the high level bridge and another at the corner of 94 street and Jasper avenue. One trolley service street car was "dead" when its resistance coil was burned out at 97 avenue and 109 street at 12:45 a. m. and had to be pushed back to the car barns.

TRANSFORMERS suffered most damage in the four-hour storm, and crews Saturday were getting this equipment back into running order. According to records at the Dominion public weather office, 28 of an inch of rain fell from 1:38 a. m. to 5:30 a. m. The wind whipped up an intensity of 32 miles per hour at 4:40 a. m. The storm was on a line that soaked Lac La Biche with .18 of an inch of rain, and 1.06 of an inch at Calgary and Lethbridge, .01 of an inch. The

Accused to Stand Trial for Robbery

Charged with the robbery of the Army, Navy and Air Force veterans' club, on Aug. 11, Lavorne A. Bone, 11726 90 street, appeared before Magistrate A. I. Miller, K.C., in city police court Friday for preliminary hearing and was remanded for trial at the next sitting of supreme court. Defence in the case was reserved.

WILLIAM WHITTON, employed as club night watchman, was the first to give evidence. He stated that he was held up by a masked man while in the club at about 4:30 a.m. Aug. 11. He said that the man appeared to be holding something that looked like a revolver. Whitton had his hands taped and was made to sit on a chair. After ransacking the drawers in the office the man, witness said, proceeded to remove the safe from the building. Whitton said that the thief remarked "I don't like doing this but they won't give me a job so I've got to do the best I can."

THE MASKED MAN then came back and told Whitton to give him five minutes to which the watchman replied, "You can have all the time you want." Whitton then asked what time it was and the man told him it was 4:40 a.m. Whitton and has a doorway at the rear.

POLICE found the safe, a toy gun and a roll of adhesive tape in a bush near the city limits.

Bone, a married man about 30 years old, joined the Canadian Army in 1939 and proceeded overseas the same year. He saw action at Dieppe where he stated he was shell-shocked. On arriving in Canada in 1944 he was hospitalized in a Toronto hospital for some months and was then discharged in March, 1945. The magistrate set bail at $3,000.

Says France Needs Coal To Carry On Industries

France's basic problem is her lack of coal, said Miss Gladys Arnold, assistant director in charge of the English section of the French Information Service in Ottawa, who was a visitor in Edmonton Friday on her way to her home after a trip to the Pacific Coast. She was a guest at the Corona hotel.

In an interview with THE EDMONTON BULLETIN Miss Arnold said France has no coal left. Before the war, that country needed 80,000 tons of coal to heat the homes and run industries. Before the war France imported 12 to 13 million tons of coal from Britain but Britain needs its own coal. France might get coal from the United States but it would cost $8 a ton more than European coal owing to transportation costs. So the only place to obtain coal is the Ruhr valley.

THE COAL shortage is the basic reason for the slow rate of production in France's textile and other industries. France feels that the Allied European countries should have first priority on the Ruhr coal, so they can reconstruct what the Germans have destroyed.

The information service in Ottawa supplies texts on France to magazines and newspapers. Persons going from Canada to France will have their work in France facilitated for them by the information service. It strengthens the friendship between Canada and France.

Reconstruction is going ahead rapidly in France, said Miss Arnold. With a good crop this year the vital needs of 70 to 75 per cent of the people will be taken care of.

THE NATIONAL clothing collection was a god-send to the people of France, Miss Arnold said. The clothing saved the lives of millions suffering from malnutrition and cold. The country needed 12,000,000 men's suits and 8,000,000 women's winter coats. The women needed the clothing more than the men because mothers had cut their clothing to fit their children.

Anyone in Canada wishing a correspondent in France or in the United States, teachers wanting correspondents for French classes may obtain names from the French Information Service. Interest of French children in Canadian children is tremendous Miss Arnold said.

With Quiet Weddings Still Edmonton Vogue, Simple Reception Popular

A Wedding Breakfast of the Buffet or 'Sit Down' Type Simplifies the Serving of Refreshments at Reception

Shown left, cutting their cake at a wedding reception held at the home of Mrs. P. A. Dow, are Mr. and Mrs. Michael Tamani, Jr., who were married in an early morning ceremony in St. Joachim's church. The bride, the former Miss Clara Elizabeth (Betty) Cairns, is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Cairns, of Edmonton, and the groom, a former lieutenant-colonel in the U.S.A.A.F., is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Tamani, of Des Moines, Iowa. Photograph by McDermid Studios.

Tailor your wedding reception to suit the size and time of your wedding.

In pre-war days, when the parents of the bride felt it their duty to give their daughter the most elaborate wedding possible, the reception was planned on the grand style.

Today in Edmonton, where the simple wedding of wartime is still high in favor, the small wedding reception is favored by many brides.

Morning weddings, which are generally small, intimate affairs attended only by members of the immediate families and a few close friends, should be followed by a wedding breakfast on simple lines. This may be either the buffet or "sit-down" variety. The same type of breakfast should be served also after a high noon wedding.

Afternoon is favored by many brides for the wedding hour—and in this case the ceremony should be succeeded by a reception similar in arrangement to that of an afternoon tea party. The evening wedding reception can be either the buffet type or similar to the afternoon reception.

At a wedding breakfast following a morning ceremony, the guests may be seated at either one long table or at a number of smaller ones. Food served is generally hot and of the same type as would be served at a luncheon.

Refreshments at an afternoon reception are about the same as for afternoon tea, with the difference that wedding cake, wine, or punch are served in addition. The same type of food would be offered at a late evening wedding when refreshments are served about 10:30 p.m.

The service is the same as for the reception with friends of the bride serving the food to the guests while the fathers and the groom's friends serve the punch or wine for toasts.

Following a wedding between high noon and 2:00 p.m., a luncheon is served about one-half hour later. This is usually called a "breakfast" and consists of a sit-down affair or buffet. The same menus could be served after a high-noon wedding, or late afternoon wedding.

So when planning your wedding, plan your reception to suit. To have a big wedding and small reception or vice versa, is an incongruous as wearing oxfordia with evening dress.

Don't Wire; Don't 'Phone; But Write Notes of Thanks

Instead of sending a telegram or a telephone call, there is one chore the bride must not neglect. That means writing a personal note of thanks promptly for every present received.

An immediate card of thanks is all right, but a dictated, typewritten note, telephoning or even a verbal "thank you" also are in poor taste.

Instead the bride should write a separate letter for each present received in her own handwriting and on a sheet of her best notepaper. And she should get this off the day the present arrives.

Notes of thanks may be short. When acknowledging a present from a married couple, the bride should write to the wife and thank both.

Mr. James Stanley Pilling and his bride, the former Miss Doreen Eileen Hardy, are shown above signing the register immediately after their wedding in Knox United church. The bride is a daughter of Mrs. E. Letendre, of Edmonton, and the groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Pilling, also of Edmonton. The newweds spent a honeymoon in Vancouver and the United States and are now residing at 10805 75 ave.

Mr. Thomas James Reid, and his bride, the former Miss Esther Beverslein, are shown above cutting their cake at a reception held after their wedding recently in Metropolitan United church. The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Fred Beverslein, of Camrose, and the late Mr. Beverslein, and the groom is the elder son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Reid, of Sask. On return from a honeymoon trip to Calgary, the newweds will reside in Edmonton. Photograph by Bob Cantelon.

Mr. Georges Joseph Nobert is shown with his bride, the former Marie Therese Gertrude Dupuis, after their wedding at St. Joachim's church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. Henry A. Dupuis of Edmonton and the groom is the son of Mrs. Urbanie Nobert of Morinville, and the late Mr. Telephore Nobert. The couple will reside in Morinville. Photograph by House Studios.

Mr. Glen A. Stannard, and his bride, the former Miss Doris Barbara Miller, were married recently in Metropolitan United church. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Miller, of Edmonton, and the groom is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. James Stannard, of West Salisbury. Mr. and Mrs. Stannard are spending a honeymoon in Calgary and Banff and later will reside in South Edmonton. Photograph by Burgess Studios.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark E. Barker are pictured after their recent wedding at Robertson United church. The bride is the former Miss Jean Agnes Napier, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Campbell Napier of Edmonton and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Barker, also of this city. After a honeymoon trip to Vancouver and Victoria, the couple will reside in Edmonton. Photograph by Kessit Studio.

Make Up, Don't Paint Up, With Your Wedding White

That all-white wedding ensemble demands simple and subtle make-up.

Brilliant scarlet, deep wine or mauish shades of lipstick and nail polish, contrasted against the white wedding gown, will make even the prettiest young bride look artificial and painted.

Best bet for make-up are soft rose shades of lipstick and nail polish. A foundation film which gives the skin a soft, dull mat finish is also recommended.

The bride's attendants should follow suit. After all, she's the star of the show and they should not wear make-up that makes her seem peaked and pale in comparison.

Mr. Hans Edmund Rutschbeck is pictured with his bride, the former Ruth Lebel Stewart, after their wedding which took place at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Irene Stewart at 10805 80 ave. The groom is the son of Mrs. R. J. Strimberger of Homer, Alaska. The couple will reside in Fairbanks, Alaska. Photograph by John Brownlee.

Mr. Hugh Stansfield, R.C.A.M.C., and his bride, the former Miss Harriett Campbell, who were married at Dicky, N.S., Aug. 15. The groom is the son of Fred and Mrs. Edgar Stansfield, of Edmonton, and the bride is the daughter of Mr. Harold J. Campbell, of Digby. Both bride and groom served overseas in the R.C.A.M.C. The newweds will take up residence in Montreal where the groom will do post-graduate work in medicine at McGill University.

Mr. Charles Willard (Bill) Davies, and his bride, the former Miss Stacia Eileen Baker, are shown above in their car immediately after their wedding in Wesley United church. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred M. Baker, of Edmonton, and the groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Davies, of Hagar, Sask. The newweds are spending a honeymoon in Vancouver, and on return will reside in Mirror, Alta. Photograph by Foto-Craft.

Mr. James Frederick Leach and his bride, the former Miss Ethel Florence Campbell, are shown after their wedding recently at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Campbell, of Winterton. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Leach of Medstead, Sask. The newweds will reside at 9361 108 St., Edmonton. Photograph by Gertis Studio.

Less Coal Takes More Insulation

While most Canadians are conscious of the need of insulation to order their coal early to assure adequate supply as shortages will permit, wise home makers are also ordering extra insulation.

Nash Takes Over Plant in Toronto

Nash Motors of Canada Limited has completed negotiations to buy the Ford plant here in Toronto for the production of Nash automobiles. It was announced today by T. H. Bartley, general manager of the Toronto Industrial Commission.

George W. Mason, president of Nash Motors of Canada Limited, and also president of Nash Kellogg Limited, Longueville, Ontario, declared that the purchase of the plant is the most important single development in the history of Nash Motors of Canada and offers "tangible evidence of our great confidence in the long-term prosperity and future market expansion in the Dominion."

MR. MASON and other Nash officials were in Toronto recently to look over the property and were guests at a luncheon given by John A. Tery, president of the Toronto Industrial Commission. At the luncheon, H. C. Doss, Nash Motors vice-president and general sales manager, declared the purchase means "Nash cars will be made in Canada, by Canadians, for Canadians." The plant, he said, also will mean that "Nash sales, popular in Canada, will be able to increase the number of its Canadian car owners and can be expected to improve its competitive position in the Canadian automobile market."

Hollow Concrete Building Blocks Helping to Solve Cement Shortage

In the present shortage of cement, hollow concrete building blocks are proving popular. The hollow blocks, which save space, do the work of a solid poured concrete wall, and are used in the construction of foundations and walls. The saving of space in the use of hollow blocks also will often floor the basement of a house. The use of hollow blocks in the construction of a house, however, does not mean that the initial cost of the material will be less. The initial cost of the material will be less, but the saving in the cost of the foundation and walls will be considerable.

Many builders are now turning their attention to the use of hollow concrete blocks, realizing that the blocks will not spoil if not used right away, while they wait for the proper time to use them. Anyone who is considering building—either a home or an industrial building—would do well to consider the advantages of using concrete building blocks.

This material is economical in its first cost and even more economical in upkeep cost. The hollow concrete blocks are made in a variety of sizes and shapes, and are used in the construction of foundations and walls. The use of hollow blocks in the construction of a house, however, does not mean that the initial cost of the material will be less. The initial cost of the material will be less, but the saving in the cost of the foundation and walls will be considerable.

One of the outstanding advantages of a building constructed with concrete building blocks is that it is fireproof, which is of course, reflected in lower fire insurance rates. This feature is important as it is, should not be worth noting under present building conditions to observe other features that follow building with insufficiently seasoned lumber. A concrete block building, well-constructed to a sound plan will not crack. It will withstand all weather for a lifetime, sturdy and fireproof.

For concrete block buildings are not only fireproof and sturdy, but they are also adaptable to any style of architecture and lend themselves to a wide variety of surface finishes. Stucco, for instance, may be applied to the wall without the use of a wire mesh. Besides building beautiful and permanent houses, concrete blocks have been used extensively in the construction of churches, schools, stores and farm buildings of all types.

Concrete blocks are now being made in Edmonton. Their costs compare very favorably with other building materials. Contingents and private builders are invited to investigate the advantages of this material. Full information may be obtained from Western Concrete Masonry Products.

School Equipment Sent to Continent

Fifteen tons of school equipment—pencils, pens, crayons, exercise books, erasers—have been shipped this summer to schools in Greece, Poland and other war-impressed countries, as a gift from Canadian school children, according to Dr. Charles E. Phillips, Toronto, secretary of the Canada and Newfoundland Education Association, who is in Edmonton for the 23rd convention of the association.

THESE SUPPLIES have been collected by pupils in 20 Canadian cities. The appeal for shipments of minimum educational equipment was made through UNESCO, United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization.

The collection of school supplies was initiated by the CNEA who enlisted the co-operation of city superintendents of schools, supplied cards and addressing labels, secured storage space for the supplies and money for freight. The books to Montreal, from where they were packed board supply ships and sent to Europe. The work was done by a committee of UNESCO.

IN ADDITION the city of Winnipeg contributed over $1,000 which was used for purchasing of supplementary school supplies in the United Kingdom. Various local clubs have assisted with gifts of books and money.

Before The Magistrate

PLEADING GUILTY to four charges of obtaining more than $419 by false pretences and issuing worthless cheques, Theodore S. Jackson of Nova Scotia pleaded guilty to one year imprisonment on each charge when he appeared before Magistrate A.L. Millar, K.C., in city police court Thursday.

THE SENTENCES are to run concurrently. A RESIDENT of Blue Ridge offered to make restitution and put up securities in order that Ronald S. Spink Blue Ridge charged with obtaining $57.33 by means of forging a cheque, might be placed on suspended sentence. Following a warning the magistrate placed Spink on one year's suspended sentence.

ROBERT McGRATH, Kenneth Myers and Ralph Ross were brought up to face charges of shop-breaking in connection with the safe blowing at the Imperial Oil company earlier this month and the theft of $500 in cash and securities from the provincial treasury in Kelsey. They were remanded until Aug. 27.

FOR PERMITTING a minor to consume liquor, John Bowie was fined $80 on costs or six weeks imprisonment.

Bank clearings through the Edmonton clearing house for one week ended Aug. 22 amounted to $12,488,955.24 as compared to $10,191,382.71 for the corresponding week of last year.

WITH 2 MEN OUT

IT'S POSSIBLE FOR A BATTER TO REACH FIRST SAFELY ON A FOUL FLY THAT IS CAUGHT - AND SCORE ON A FAIR FLY THAT IS CAUGHT! HOW?

(NO BALKS - STOLEN BASES OR ERRORS - AND ONLY 2 BALLS PITCHED!) Solution Monday

(NO BALKS, STOLEN BASES OR ERRORS, AND ONLY 2 BALLS BITCHED!) Solomon Mendel

have I never met you before—socially? Surely— Of course you know you are beautiful. You'd be —affected, and I simply don't any stock in it. I bet you're the average girl—dreaming of tulips that bordered the walks were responsible, or the pussy willows that flaunted their gray kittens beside the tennis courts, or it might possibly be the fact that the bill on which the hospital stood caught the Great Depression.

should have thought—How ever did that special boy friend let you?"

"Sally shook her head. This was not her special boy friend, let's call him. No doubt the other girls had to submit to the same sort of inquisition."

"Believe it or not, my dear, there is no 'boy friend.' I'm a nurse and I want to be a nurse. I don't love it. I wouldn't be anything else."

"But why? How did you come to choose—to make that decision. Sally? From what I recall, it wasn't exactly necessary that you—"

"I was 10 when my mother died," Sally said quietly. "She was ill less than three weeks—died of pneumonia. My father was the nurse. She let me help her and together we fought for my mother's life. It was a losing battle. But I wanted to be like her. I admired her more than any woman I had ever known. So when I was 18 I entered training as a nurse. My mother would expect to make nursing my career—my whole life."

"That's a very young, Sally," the other protested. "You simply can't nurses marry doctors," protested, "here one who won't or a patient either who says, I'm not interested in me."

"Blat!" Marcia exclaimed impatiently. "You only think you know. I've been in the hospital since I was a baby. I know how serious there looks a dream of marriage. I know how hard it is to never believe otherwise."

"Okay," Sally shrugged. "That's all right. But I don't know if I gave it to you. What you do with it is your own affair. Nobody can tell you. I don't want to sleep as that when your lieutenant arrives he will be completely satisfied."

Marcia laughed gleefully. "You know it. When you get married, you know it. What's the matter with that nice young intern—what's his name?—I don't know. He's got there's another one here, too. He looks like as if he might be fun to have. I don't know if I told you the other girl. I bet they're both crazy about you."

"I don't know if they manage to keep it well hidden," Sally said, smiling and annoyed at herself for blushing.

THE WAY MOM SCREAMED FOR THAT NEW LIVING ROOM FURNITURE, YOU'D HAVE THOUGHT SHE LIVED

AND NOW THAT SHE'S GOT HER NEW SET THEY ALL SIT IN THE KITCHEN.

YOU WON'T READ IT NOW THAT COUCH! THERE ARE PLENTY OF OTHER PLACES TO SIT WITHOUT SCRATCHING UP THE NEW FURNITURE!

SNAPPING SNAPPER

SNAPPER, the Chinaman's pet beetle, is the best watch bug the Teenie Weenies ever owned. Snapper couldn't, or wouldn't, be taught to pull a little wagon as a former pet bug had, but he is the best antler that ever roamed the Teenie Weenie village. He never lets an ant get anywhere near the tiny houses and that is a great relief to the little folk. Ants can be very annoying to the Teenie Weenies, and especially to the Cook. Before Snapper was taught to chase ants, the pesky insects kept the Cook always on the watch because they would get into the kitchen and carry off a Teenie Weenie mixing spoon if he turned his back on it for a moment.

However, Snapper has several habits that do not endear him to some of the Teenie Weenies. The bug will sometimes carry off Teenie Weenie belongings and the little men have to be careful that tools are not left around where the beetle can find them. Snapper has a bad temper, too, and he often snaps at the Teenie Weenies with his great pincers, which isn't exactly pleasant even though he never has hurt one of them.

One morning several of the Teenie Weenie men were repairing a peapod canoe which had been damaged when it had bumped into a floating corncob on the creek. The men had set the canoe on some Teenie Weenie horses just outside the workshop. They had been careful to lay their tiny tools in the canoe in order to keep the bug from carrying them away, for Snapper had appeared just as soon as the men started work on the canoe.

The TECHIE WEEENIES

BY WM. DONAHEY

Forgetting the bug for an instant, the Sailor set a cherry seed pot of glue on the ground. Instantly, Snapper picked it up in his pincers. The Cowboy yelled a warning and the Sailor gave the bug a vicious kick in the side as Snapper started to scuttle off with the pot.

That was a very foolish thing to do. Snapper dropped the pot and went after the Sailor, who ran away at top speed. The Sailor is a speedy runner, but Snapper could travel fast, too, for he uses all of his six legs as well as his wings. The Teenie Weenie, running for the shoe house, just managed to get into the kitchen and slam the tiny door a few jumps ahead of the bug's snapping pincers.

The angry beetle hung around the kitchen door waiting for the Sailor until the Chinaman came and took him home. The next morning when Snapper had to be let loose to clear the village of ants that had overrun the place while Snapper was tied up, the Sailor was careful to keep out of his way.
